Equipment on Field During The Retreat Valued At $100,000

Despite frequent showers the program of the Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Saturday, was a success. The street parade which preceded the field competition at the Bristol high school was witnessed by hundreds, and all were enthused. The parade, starting at Beaver and Prospect streets at 6:30 p. m. went over the announced route and was viewed by spectators gathered along the streets.

The eight participating corps made a brilliant showing, some of the very best corps in this part of the country taking part.

The program at the high school field was carried out although spectators sat on newspaper-covered bleachers, under umbrellas, watching the execution of the difficult maneuvers of the corps and listening to the excellence of the music.

It was announced that the equipment of the corps on the field during the spectacular retreat was valued at $100,000.

During the exhibition two visiting cadets fell victims to the heat and over-exertion. Cecil Harrell, bass drummer, with Osmond Post, collapsed. Blaise Bizzza, cymbal player, with the West Reading Police Cadets, was also a victim of the heat, as were also Robert Price, Bordentown cadet, and P. Gohl, of

PEACE TALKS

UN TRUCE CAMP NEAR KAE-SONG

Allied and Red delegates failed today to break a four-day deadlock on the issue of where to draw a cease-fire line across Korea and the Kaesong truce conference thus verged on a new crisis. The Communist negotiators, balked in their effort to persuade the allies to withdraw their troops to Parallel 38, acknowledged that the war must go on until a full armistice is concluded—if that can be done.

This acknowledgement, I.N.S. was reliably informed, came after the Red delegation Monday renewed a suggestion to halt the fighting before a formal truce is negotiated.

"UPON THIS ROCK WILL I BUILD MY CHURCH," IS THE TOPIC USED BY REV. GEORGE E. BOSWELL FOR ANNIVERSARY SERMON, ST. JAMES' CHURCH

The sermon delivered yesterday morning in St. James' Episcopal Church by the Rev. George E. Boswell, rector, dealt with the 23rd anniversary of the church.

The Rev. Boswell took as his topic Matt. 16:18 in part: "Upon this Rock I will build my church and the gates of Hell shall not prevail against it."

The Rev. Boswell spoke as follows:

Today, this historic parish, rightly reflects back to a service held here on St. James' day, July 25th, 1712. On that day, the record states the building was crowded, for the fulfillment of a cherished dream took place. For ten long years people had worked and gave money for the erection of a church building. The congregation had worshipped in various places, hoping some day to have a real church building. Then the time came when their hopes were fulfilled, a church building had been erected, and all debts were paid, and a service of dedication was held.

For 239 years St. James' Church has been a part of Bristol. We look back over the years of our parish life with a deepening sense of gratitude to Almighty God. There are normally three attitudes of gratitude that we can take on this our anniversary service, each of which is expressed in an incident of Holy Scripture.

All are familiar with the story of the ten lepers who were cleansed by Christ. Nine of the lepers who had been miraculously cured rushed on to exhibit themselves, as was required in that day, to the priests

SENATOR MARTIN WARNS OF ATTEMPT AT POWER GRAB

Pennsylvania Senator Says Truman's Aims Are Socialistic

TO USE CONTROLS

Congress, He Says, is Very Strongly Opposed to Power Asked by President

(Special to Courier)

WASHINGTON, July 30—The Truman Administration is attempting to use the need for wage-price controls as a shield behind which to grab unlimited powers and to impose upon the nation a program that is completely socialistic, Senator Edward Martin (R., Pa.) warned in a radio address broadcast over the week-end.

The controls law which the White House is insisting that Congress pass would give Government agents "the power of life and death over any business or industry that incurred their displeasure," Senator Martin added.

Congress, he pointed out, was not opposed to fair and sound control laws, but on the other hand had tried to insist on their being invoked a year ago when they were urgently needed, and when the President was delaying invoking them. Congress, however, is strongly opposed to the kind of extreme power the President asks.

What the President is demanding is power to license every business, power to revoke the license at will, authority to seize private property at will, and power to build government-operated factories. This, he said, boils down to "pure, unadulterated socialism."

Senator Martin's address follows: Many thoughtful Americans have been deeply disturbed by the Truman Administration's high pressure demand for controls that would give the bureaucrats a stranglehold on the national economy.

I don't mean controls on prices, wages or critical materials needed for defense. I don't mean controls that would protect the American people from the ruinous effects of runaway inflation.

We must have those so long as the present emergency continues. Everyone who has been feeling the pinch of high prices wants a

Eight accidents—15 vehicles involved—four hurt—two drivers pronounced under the influence of intoxicating liquor! This is lower Bucks County's week-end driving record on police blotters.

Some of the accidents during the showery week-end occurred in Bristol borough, others in Bristol township, and one was in Middletown township.

At three o'clock yesterday morning on Radcliffe street, a car driven by Vincent Fiole, 213 Lafayette street, travelling east on Radcliffe street, skidded and hit a car parked on the north side of Radcliffe street in front of 1115. The Fiole car continued on struck a tree in front of 1121. The parked car belonged to William J. Janos, Easton. The left rear fender and hub cap were damaged. It was raining at the time. The accident was investigated by Officers Vansant and Spinelli.

At nine o'clock Saturday evening, a car operated by Anton F. Zimmers, 37, of Langhorne R. D., struck a fire hydrant and tree in front of 537 Otter street. The car was going west and continued about one block before stopping.

According to the police, Zimmers was examined by a physician and found to be under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Officers Vansant and Lockhart investigated.

At 10:45 Saturday morning, a car operated by John DeMarchis, 25 Railroad avenue, collided with the truck of Earl W. McEuen, of 268 Harrison street. The collision occurred at Farragut avenue and Harrison street. McEuen was travelling south on Harrison street, and DeMarchis west on Farragut avenue. According to police, DeMarchis was examined by a physician and found to be under the influence of liquor. Officer McCahan investigated.

Several accidents occurred in Bristol Township over the week-end. One man was injured when his car hit a pole on the bridge approach. Bristol township police investigated.

At about 12:30 yesterday morning a car driven by James P. Miller, 460 Court A, Bristol Terrace II, was side-swiped by a 1/2-ton pickup truck driven by Forrest Bell, 623 Race street. Miller and his wife were returning home when the accident happened.

At four a. m. yesterday morning a car driven by Richard

Chapin Quickly Recovers Car Stolen from Terrace

Officer Bentley Chapin, of Bristol township police, yesterday recovered a stolen car a short time after the owner reported the theft. Two boys from Bristol Terrace II are being held for juvenile court, accused of being implicated in the theft.

While investigating an accident on Beaver Dam road at 12:30 yesterday morning, Officer Chapin received the report from John Malcolm, 1314 Russell street, Philadelphia, that some one had taken his car after he parked it at the Terrace to visit friends at 427 Court A, Bristol Terrace II.

The stolen car was sighted by Officer Chapin at the intersection of Beaver Dam road and Jefferson avenue at about 1:30 a. m. The car turned right on Route 13 and Chapin gave chase. The stolen car was travelling at an estimated speed of 70 miles per hour on the highway. The car turned left onto Green Lane, came to a stop on the wrong side of the highway, and two boys jumped out and ran into the woods. Officer Chapin apprehended one boy, age 15 (name withheld), from Terrace II. Another boy, age 16, also from Terrace II, was picked up at his home by the police. The two boys admitted taking the car and said they had driven it around the area.

Both boys are being held for juvenile court.

Who Wins The Prize?

(By "The Stroller") A fourth ward housewife caused herself quite a hunt when she misplaced her pocket-book. But it was safe enough, she found it right where she put it—in the refrigerator.

But methinks a sixth ward woman takes the prize. She had a hard-boiled egg—somewhere—but where? The time came to use the egg in a salad, but the hen fruit was nowhere to be found. The house was turned "upside-down," and the egg was found right where she had put it—in the desk.

NEW LANDS FOR OLD

It is easy to accept the statement by Dr. G. J. Van Heuven Goedhart, UN high commissioner for refugees, that the refugee problem in Europe is not yet solved. How could it be?

During and immediately after World War II literally millions of persons were forced to leave their native lands and seek safety in whatever nations would open their doors to them. To imagine that all of these men, women, and children have been permanently relocated by his time is to be blind to the difficulties which the commission has had to overcome.

Today there are still tens and tens of thousands living in refugee camps and wondering what fate has in store for them. While there are countries, including the United States, the United Kingdom, and Italy, which are willing to receive a certain number of displaced persons, the UN commissioner is of the opinion that many refugees will be better off if they can be resettled in the states where the camps are situated.

They have been where they are for so long a period that removal to still another nation will subject them to unnecessary hardships. These refugees have been tragic figures in post-war life. Most of them will never see their old homes again. They deserve the kindness and humane treatment they are getting under the auspices of the United Nations.

MAYBE ITS COMING

For a long, long time people said: "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it!"

Then, recently, the so-called "rainmakers" came along with their dry ice and silver iodide and maybe other substances. Double-dome scientists from great universities went aloft in airplanes and "seeded" clouds with the stuff they figured might bring the tiny droplets of moisture together into raindrops. They made a great to-do over this kind of thing summer before last when the reservoirs serving New York City were running dry.

And sometimes it rained. The trouble was that not even the scientists could be sure their monkeyshines precipitated the precipitation. Maybe it was going to rain anyway.

The record-smashing floods in Kansas and Missouri have stirred up a large dark cloud in the U. S. Senate. Several Senators suspect the iodide-seeders are partly to blame. They want Congress to enact a law to control the rainmakers. The Senators surmise seeded clouds from other areas may have floated to Kansas before letting go.

Well, there have been predictions in the past that Congress, sooner or later, would attempt to do something about the weather. Maybe the time has arrived.

Government planners have discovered that baby pigs fatten faster on bananas than corn. Where bananas are to come from is for farmers to worry about, presumably.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Mar. 5, 1903. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

HULMEVILLE—The regular monthly meeting of the board of health was held on Monday evening in the town hall. The regular business was transacted and bills passed and presented to council for payment. Charles F. Laros' term expired with this meeting and John W. Dunlap was appointed by council to fill the vacancy.

FLUSHING—One of the largest bulls that has ever been killed around here was killed at "Farley" last week. The animal weighed nearly 1,000 pounds. Mr. Murray was very proud of him. F. C. Smith, of Bristol, bought him.

The vaccine physicians appointed by the Board of Health, consisting of the seven physicians of the borough, have been making the rounds during the past week and have vaccinated a large number of people. The employees of Steel's mill who had not been inoculated have had it done by a physician employed by the firm, as the other mills have done.

The Bristol Choral Society rendered the oratorio, "The Ten Virgins," in a very efficient manner to a large audience in the M. E. Church on Tuesday evening. The chorus consisted of 60 voices and was under the direction of W. F. Hall. All the special parts were taken by local talent, and very creditably rendered. Those to whom the parts were assigned are as follows: Mrs. Lewis J. Bevan, Miss Deborah Douglass, Miss Dora Weygand, Miss Ruth Stephenson, Mrs. William H. Kelschaw, Miss Adaline G. Lewis, Harry Bunting, Harry York, Wesley Bunting, Dr. Wilbur Peirce, . . .

Dr. James Patterson, of West Bristol township, was appointed deputy factory inspector last week to succeed Evan R. Penrose, of Quakertown, the latter having been appointed bank examiner.

In accordance with the constitutional provision, the Bristol borough council met last Monday evening, the first Monday in March, for the purpose of organization. All of the members were present: George Buckley, of the second ward, who had not taken the oath of office, was sworn in by Squire Kraft.

Clerk J. Wesley Wright called the council to order and explained the objects of the meeting. Josiah M. Owens was chosen temporary presiding officer. After roll call the members drew their seats. The fourth ward members were fortunate. James Dugan drew first choice, Edward P. McDonald second, and John P. Gallagher third.

There were no contests for any of the offices and the following were chosen by acclamation:

President, Josiah M. Owens; Clerk, J. Wesley Wright; borough treasurer, H. H. H. Poole; borough solicitors, Gillespie & James; chief of police, Charles Saxton; borough surveyor, Franklin Gillespie; pound keeper, Charles Saxton.

The rules governing the last body were adopted for the use of the new Council.

A communication from the board of health was read, relatives to the Board's disapproval of the suggestion to erect a municipal smallpox hospital. The communication was laid over until next Monday evening at the regular meeting.

A short time ago the Gazette announced that Charles W. Duval, who resided with Joseph Heston, of Bristol, a student in the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania, and another student had discovered the germ which caused cholera infantum, and now the Philadelphia North American announced yesterday that Dr. J. H. Mason Knox, son of the late Rev. Dr. Knox, a former Bristol boy, had discovered the serum which would kill Duval's germs. Bristolians will be interested in the North American's dispatch from Baltimore, which is as follows: John D. Rockefeller's monument to his little grandson, "Jack," will be cholera infantum cure that has been discovered as the result of work conducted under the auspices of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research during the last two years.

Announcement that the qualities of a serum that would combat all forms of dysentery had been discovered was made last night in a private lecture room of the hospital by Dr. Simon Flexner, of the University of Pennsylvania, who was recently appointed director of the Rockefeller Institute, and Dr. James H. M. Knox, of the hospital staff, who has been associated with Dr. Flexner in the investigations.

time, the poor Publican. The Publican did not utter a prayer of Thanksgiving. He merely made a plea for mercy. God be merciful to me a sinner. Among those who worship at St. James' undoubtedly there will be a few who feel themselves better than others but I am sure the vast majority will lift up their hearts in gratitude for God's mercy in giving our parish such a long and useful life to the community for from us other Churches in nearby communities have been established.

The third attitude of gratitude is expressed in still another of our Lord's parables, namely the feeding of the 5,000. Five thousand hungry people, men women and children were gathered together on a hillside in Galilee. A small boy who had five barley loaves and two small fishes is among them. He is touched by the needs of the people around him. He brought his lunch to the Master. And the Master when he had given thanks, distributed to the disciples and the disciples distributed to the people and all were fed.

I have always liked that boy. He is nameless but so are many of the great characters who have made our nation and our Church here. This boy must have had a tremendous faith and a warm heart. Mark you he did not break off a little piece of one of the fishes he had, nor did he break one of his five rolls retaining the larger pieces for himself. He brought all that he had to Christ, like the widow who cast her two mites into the treasury. This boy might have opened a "black market" and sold his rolls and made a little money but he did not. Five rolls and two fishes would be little for a great crowd but he gave them all to Christ. And Jesus took the food and all know how after he blessed it and gave thanks there was ample to feed everybody.

The very backbone of this parish and of every other parish are those blessed Souls who give what they have and their means and their services consecrated by Christ become a great incentive and inspiration for others. This anniversary service ought to be a great Thanksgiving Service. How then today as we look back over our past are we to give thanks and find inspiration for the future. Are we like the nine lepers who went on their way thinking only of their own welfare, or shall our gratitude be complacent thanking God that we are better than others, thinking there must be a special corner in Heaven reserved for us. Or will our gratitude be the unmatched satisfaction that comes from willingness to share the privileges of our nation and our Church.

The Episcopal church of which you and I are members is a historic one, it is one in which many great Americans have been members. Anniversary days are days when one looks back over the past with gratitude and at the same time looks forward with hope.

What of the future for St. James' Church for that is more important than its notable past. Our past certainly should be a great inspiration to us. Unfortunately we are living in an age when people in increasing numbers are not only indifferent toward the Church but also are critical of it. The scorn of paganism is indeed commonplace. Many think they no longer need the Church in their individual lives. Certainly today no organization is so challenged and no organization is so under fire as the Christian Church. Current paganism would like to laugh the Church into oblivion. The Church is nice to have to call upon when trouble enters one's life, but otherwise it means but little to the average person. Every now and again one meets some who are even apologetic for the fact that they are in some way connected with the Church. So many have told me from time to time that St. James' Church ought to be filled every Sunday, but those who tell me that fail to come to add to the number attending. I heartily agree that St. James' Church ought to be crowded every Sunday for as I study the records of our past I have come to the conclusion that St. James' Church has meant three things to those who have worshipped here.

In the first place the Church has been a source of Light. Here men and women and children have been taught an awareness of God; here the light of the scriptures has been shed upon the many intricate problems of life, day and in and day out. Our love and devotion to St. James' Church would increase and multiply a thousand and per cent could we but visualize the spiritual light that has been radiated from this hallowed spot. Who could begin to estimate the output of this or any parish. Surely when Christ gave his disciples their great commission to go into all the world and preach the gospel he intended that they radiate Light; light that would banish the darkness of ignorance and unbelief; light that would show men the folly of sin and evil.

Which way ahead. That is a question which every member of this wonderfully blessed parish should ask himself. As in the past, St. James' Church here, now more than ever, must shed radiant light of the gospel on the perplexing problems of life in a nation that is tending to forget God. There are sacred ideals which we have permitted sin to cover up and they must be made clean again.

We must go on for there is a second Character building fact that men in the past have obtained from their worship of God here and that is Courage. Courage is a distinctive American virtue, as the red in our flag suggests. Our church which has been here for 239 years has had members in the war for Independence, in the war between the States, in the war against Spain; in the world wars, and now in the war against communism and totalitarianism. What a source of courage, the church has been to Americans. As Americans and as Christians we have a precious and priceless heritage. And we need to take heed today to the fact that indifference is a powerful factor in destroying a nation.

The Episcopal Church of which St. James is a part has contributed much in the upbuilding of our nation. Some of our finest and most courageous leaders have been members of our Church. One thinks of Washington and Hamilton and Jefferson and Madison and a long list of others who contributed their all to the founding and preserving of America.

It is unfortunate that in saying the word Episcopal the emphasis falls on the pal. We are not pale Christians, we are courageous Christians, and courage is a quality that is found in faithful and loyal attendance of Church. It seems to me we are challenged on this Anniversary to make our church a place where men find it easy to find God and hard to forget Him. Light and courage. How vital they are.

There is one other characteristic men have found in their loyalty and devotion to this parish or to any church and that is the church is a source of comfort. When the ills and sorrows of life come; when disappointments dishearten people; when sickness and death strike their stunning blows; it is good to have a church to turn to for comfort and assurance.

For 239 years St. James' Church has stood here a source of comfort for all, who battered by conflicts and clashes, by hard blows of fate, who have entered its doors.

As we usher in future years we need a new sense of reverence for our fine old church. Everyone young and old can help make the services here inspiring and helpful.

Christ said, "Upon this Rock I will build My Church." The Rock of course was the confession St. Peter made when Christ asked whom the disciples thought he was, and Peter confessed "Thou art the Christ." The Church is built on the fact that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

Today, we of St. James', Bristol, should lift up our hearts in gratitude to God by helping to make our church a source of spiritual light; a source of many courage and a source of divine comfort to all who come here. The opportunity to become more effective Christians is yours and mine today. Surely then let us look back with gratitude and at the same time look forward with hope.

stated, "to know that the workers in our area have recognized the need for the new hospital and have pledged their wholehearted support to the program."

Officers of the United Labor Hospital Committee include Frank Flatch, chairman; Melvin Snyder, recording secretary; Robert Grimshaw, treasurer and Rene Tritschler, chairman of the Fund Raising Committee. In presenting the gift the officers stressed that the sum represented union treasury donations only and that the members would make their individual subscriptions through their own companies in the Employee Division solicitation.

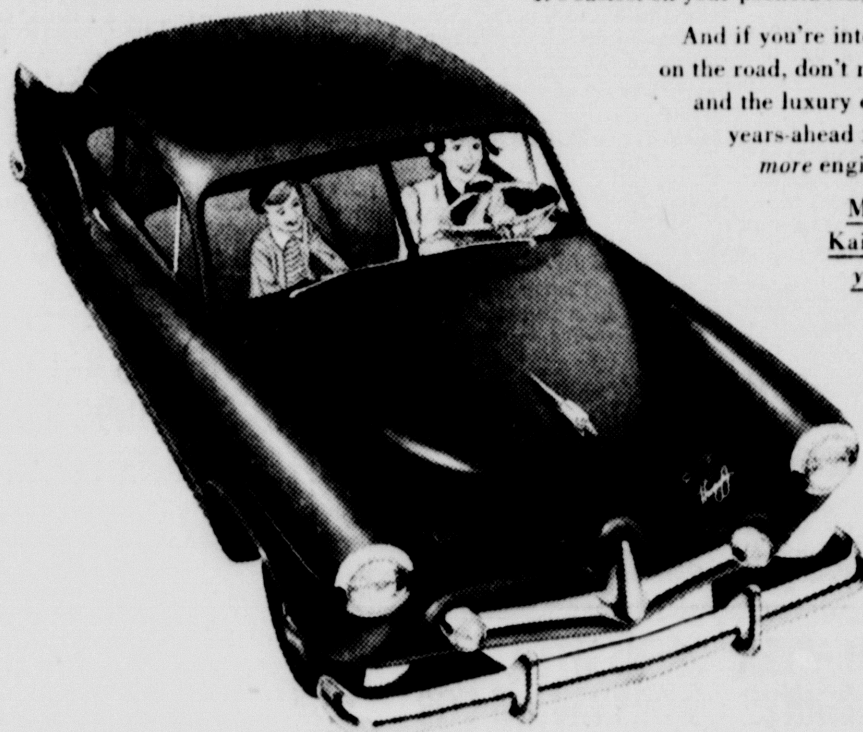

"Our members are one hundred percent behind the hospital effort," stated Chairman Flatch. "They have recognized the need for a community hospital in lower Bucks County and stand ready to give their generous support," he added. He expressed confidence that the employee groups would do their share in making possible the building of the new Lower Bucks County Hospital.

FIREPLACE

that Circulates Heat

For Homes, Camps and Basement Rooms

THE HEATILATOR FIREPLACE circulates heat to every corner of the room and adjoining rooms. Saves the heat that ordinary fireplaces waste up the chimney. The scientifically designed heating chamber of the Heatilator Fireplace is concealed in the masonry where it draws cool air from floor level, heats it, and returns it to the room.

Heatilator installation eliminates the usual causes of smoking. It saves fuel bills during cool weather. Puts no limit on mantel design. Adds but little to the cost of the finished fireplace.

See the Heatilator Fireplace in our display room, or phone for illustrated folder and low prices.

Communist newsmen in Kaesong claimed the Reds wanted an immediate cease fire a month ago but that the Allies rejected this.

The UN Supreme Command said the "14th and lengthiest session" of the Kaesong parley adjourned Monday after three hours and eight minutes, "with both sides holding firm to their views" on "establishment of a demilitarized zone."

A fresh attempt to end the stalemate was scheduled for Tuesday.
